xeed is a dj of a younger generation, growing up in a time where electronic music wasn't a novelty any more. he made his way from hardcore rave to trance and over techno to house and minimalistic beats ...finally to dubtechno. why? you know. in this radio show, xeed shows us his vision of good electronic music that is of course not necessarily dubtechno. anyway, it was a particular deepness that came to our attention when we got to know some of his sets. it made us greedy for more. check his website djxeed.ch and find a couple of teasers - xeed is also producing under his civil name fabian schinzel!
